

What is a verb?

Where is the verb?

On the way he stops to buy a newspaper and some chocolate toffees.

Every morning he rises at six o'clock.

He is on his way to work.

Bob has had his memory zapped! We need to give him some instructions on his day so he can keep being a great moon guide.

Numbered instructions

Clear instructions

What do we need to remember about instruction writing?

Bossy verbs

Adverbs.

Time conjunctions
First, Second, After that

Lets start to order Bob's day

Bob has a cup of tea and two eggs for breakfast

Have a bath and go to sleep.

Change into space suit and board the rocket ship

Meet your friends and eat your lunch.

Start work by cleaning and tidying the moon.

Check for aliens and go home.

Sell souvenirs.

Buys a newspaper and some chocolate toffees.

Entertain the tourists from Earth by somersaulting and handstands.

Lets start to order Bob's day

Bob has a cup of tea and two eggs for breakfast.

Buys a newspaper and some chocolate toffees.

Change into space suit and board the rocket ship.

Start work by cleaning and tidying the moon.

Meet your friends and eat your lunch.

Entertain the tourists from Earth by somersaulting and handstands.

Sell souvenirs.

Check for aliens and go home.

Have a bath and go to sleep.

Instructions for Bob

1. First, cook and eat your breakfast. You need to make sure you are full for your busy day.
2. Next, stroll to the shop and buy a newspaper, this will keep you entertained when in the rocket ship.
3. After that,